Red China Rejects U.S. Terms for Formosa Talks

Indicate Will Use 11 Fliers For Bargaining

Peiping Says U. S. State Dep't Answer Is Unreasonable

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — Communist China today rejected the American terms for a conference on the Formosa crisis and there were strong suggestions Peiping might use 11 imprisoned American fliers as a bargaining point.

Peiping Radio announced the rejection and said the U. S. State Department's answer to Premier Chou En-lai's bid to sit down and discuss Formosa "put forward a series of unreasonable prerequisites for such negotiations."

It listed these as the participation of Chiang Kai-shek, the call for an immediate cease-fire in the Formosa Strait, the immediate release of "all American spies" and the acceptance of a United Nations Security Council invitation to discuss the New Zealand proposal on the Formosa issue.

But at the same time, Prime Minister Mohammed Ali, Pakistan said he thought Red China might release the 11 imprisoned American fliers if Peiping were convinced of the United States' sincerity to negotiate the Formosa crisis.

Ali hinted strongly he had made progress in convincing Chou to release the prisoners in the course of a long talk he had with the Red premier.

Observers said Chou's reported willingness to discuss the release of the Americans was a strong indication the Communists hoped to use their imprisonment to win concession on other points.

The flood of developments on the Formosa crisis made it more and more evident that the talks between the United States and Communist China might not come off.

Nationalist officials on Taipei said flatly they would not sit down with the Chinese Communists on any terms. The United States said it would not talk unless the Nationalists were present. And Peiping rejected all American proposals.

Chou, in a speech to the closing session of the conference, punctuated his peace balloon when he said Red China would insist on the "liberation" of Formosa.

Chou, who emerged as the dominant figure at the Afro-Asian talks, sent peace hopes soaring on Saturday when he said the people of China do not want war and that he was willing to talk directly with the United States to ease Far Eastern tension, especially regarding Formosa.

The State Department made it clear it would not compromise on its demand that Nationalist China be present as an equal to any Formosa conference.

Dorrisville School Vocal Students Win Ratings at Contest

Dorrisville school vocal music students who participated in the Southern Illinois Grade School Vocal contest at Marion on April 22 won three first division ratings and one second division rating with one group being considered superior and selected to sing at the night performance.

Contestants were judged by Mr. Bechmeyer of the Mt. Vernon high school. Possible ratings were first, second, and third division, and a limited number of outstanding ensembles were asked to perform again for the public evening concert.

Of the sixth grade girls' ensemble which rated first superior with their singing "A Girl with a Curl," four girls were members of a sextet which last year was also judged superior. These girls are Joanne Bonner, Freda Steinsultz, Janet Fisher, and Roxanne Partain. Other members of this year's ensemble are Earlene Luther and Sharon Hetherington.

Board Discusses Water System Improvements

Additional improvements to the Harrisburg water system were discussed today by a representative of a filter manufacturing company and members of the city water board.

When the construction of Lake Harrisburg was being discussed, it was noted that additional facilities for purifying water would be necessary before Harrisburg water users could be assured of having an unlimited amount of water as the present facilities are operated at capacity during the summer months.

Water board members were told today the filtering units, not including the necessary concrete work, would cost approximately $6,300 each. A unit has a capacity of about 400,000 gallons per day.

In addition to more filter units, the system also must have more settling basins and an enlarged clear well.

Administration Urged to Consider Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson urged the administration today to give "careful consideration" to Sen. Walter F. George's plea for talks with Red China on the Formosa crisis.

He made the statement as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles returned from a five-day Canadian vacation to take personal command of U. S. diplomatic strategy in dealing with Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai's bid for the direct talks.

Dulles refused to say what chances he sees for a face-to-face conference. But he told newsmen he would "think about it" as soon as he returned to his desk at the State Department.

Even as Dulles returned from his Dick Island, Ont., retreat, obstacles to Formosa talks mounted considerably. This was chiefly because of Red China's rejection early today of this country's terms for such talks.

Must Prove Sincerity

The United States said Saturday that any talks on Formosa must include Nationalist China. Both Peiping and Nationalist China rejected this idea. This government held firm to its terms. Besides insisting that Nationalist China participate in any talks involving Formosa, this government said Red China must prove its sincerity by such action as arranging an immediate cease fire in the Formosa area and releasing imprisoned American airmen and others held unjustly.

Johnson made his suggestion in inserting in the congressional record a speech by George to the American Society of Newspaper Editors Saturday night. The Georgia Democrat said the United States should be "big enough and great enough, through its highest officials," to talk to Chou.

"It is my hope that this statement will receive the careful consideration of every policy-making officer of our government," Johnson said.

The State Department, meanwhile, left it up to Chou to make the next formal move to get any talks underway.

Set Docket for County Court

Stratton Faces Revenue Demands From Chicago, Downstate Cities

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — A visit by Chicago's mayor, renewed assaults on the toll road program and backstage maneuvering on re-apportionment and the sales tax issue will make it a busy week for Gov. William G. Stratton.

Newly inaugurated Mayor Richard Daley, a former legislative leader, will visit Stratton Thursday to ask for help in getting the Legislature to pass bills giving Chicago more revenues.

Chicago authorities say the money is needed to improve police and fire protection.

Daley, a Democrat, has not disclosed just what sources of revenue he will ask the governor, a Republican, to help him steer through the General Assembly.

Two Tough Tasks

Some downstate cities already have proposed cities get from one-fourth to one-half the 1-cent sales tax increase proposed by Stratton. But the governor has stated almost all of this money is needed for schools and mental hospitals.

A demand by Daley, the Cook County Democratic leader for a sales tax share for cities would carry heavy weight, however.

The governor is faced with an increasingly tough task of getting both a validly drawn legislative redistricting map and the sales tax increase out of the General Assembly in the next two months.

Stratton must have Democratic help to achieve either goal. The Republicans have only a 5 vote majority in the House and only 1 more than 77 votes needed to pass a bill.

The 10-12 votes controlled by Chicago's "West Side Bloc" which has certain reasons to oppose both Stratton and Daley, can determine both major issues unless the two leaders combine forces.

Seven Toll Road Bills

The toll road program, heavily criticized by Rep. Jack Bairstone (D-Waukegan) and other Democrats at the start of the legislative session, is the subject of seven bills coming before legislative committees this week.

Six bills will be heard by the House Roads and Bridges Committee. These measures concern requirements for bipartisan political appointments to the Toll Road Commission, stricter control of the commission's bonding and contracting powers and provision for judicial review of Toll Road Commission actions.

The Senate Highways Committee also is scheduled to hear arguments for judicial review of Toll Road Commission decisions. The present Toll Road Act give the commission immunity from judicial review.

The new districts for Chicago — for both the House and Senate — drew charges of gerrymandering when revealed two weeks ago. The Chicago legislators who drew them were told to try again. But the West Side bloc legislators were expected to stand their ground on boundaries of the districts they hope to occupy.

Sen. Knowland Questions Aid to India

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland questioned today whether U. S. foreign aid funds should be allotted to India in view of that country's neutral position in the cold war.

His attitude reflected a viewpoint widely held in Congress among members who are questioning or objecting to the continued inclusion of India in the foreign aid program.

Knowland gave his views to reporters in commenting on the line taken by Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru at the Afro-Asian conference at Bandung, Indonesia.

He expressed the belief that the conference had "backfired" on the neutral Nehru and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai because the anti-Communist countries in Asia had made an effective case against "the dangers of Communism."

Knowland also said he thinks those countries were more willing to make their case because the Southeast Asia pact and other treaties gave them "a sense of stability."

Meantime, Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) urged a reassessment of this nation's Asian policies. He said the Bandung conference has provided background "which we have not had before" and from it "we can better measure the effectiveness of our own policies."

Humphrey, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, said in a statement the conference has shown "how terribly important it is" for the United States to work with its "allied partners" in forming policy in the Far East.

Mt. Carmel Man is Killed in Crash

TOLEDO, Ill. (AP) — A head-on collision on Ill. 121 Sunday killed Frederick R. Stoeks, 72, Mount Carmel.

Stoeks' wife and the driver of the second car, Cecil Jones, Mattoon, were injured. They were taken to a hospital at Mattoon, state police said.

Two Brothers Killed In Crash with Ambulance Carrying Maternity Case

CHICAGO (AP) — A collision with an ambulance carrying an emergency maternity case in suburban South Holland killed two elderly brothers Sunday.

The dead were Alfonso G. Mahony, 72, and Richard Mahony, 78, operators of a Chicago realty firm. Ambulance passengers Mrs. Beverly Shockey, 21, and her nurse, Alice Reid, Dolton, Ill., were not injured.

Police said the ambulance was taking Mrs. Shockey from Ingalls Memorial Hospital in Harvey to Michael Reese Hospital following complications after the birth of her child four days ago.

She continued her trip in another ambulance.

Giant Storm Front Moves to Eastern States

Four Dead in Alabama Tornado; Seven Killed in Traffic

By United Press

A giant storm front which raked the nation's midsection with lethal tornadoes and downpours spent its fury with torrential rains in the East today.

The big squall line killed four persons with an Alabama tornado Sunday. At least seven Midwest traffic deaths were blamed on rain-slicked highways or poor visibility.

The storm's strength appeared to be ebbing early today. But it still poured rain and thunderstorms from the Mississippi Valley into New England and as far south as northern Tennessee and North Carolina.

The weekend storm got its start in the Southwest, blowing up zero visibility dust storms and tornadoes. It then fell upon the southland with death-dealing fury.

Path of Destruction

A glowing red tornado smashed a five mile path of destruction through north central Alabama, sucking up trees and causing damage estimated at $754,250.

A middle-aged farm couple was killed when the twister smashed their farm home atop Piney Grove Mountain. A 3-year old boy and a 12-year old girl were also killed and 25 persons were injured.

Another tornado roared through the campus of Eastern Kentucky State college at Richmond, destroying a house and unroofing others, and 50-mile-per-hour winds swept Wooster, Ohio.

In the Midwest, meanwhile, a tornado passed over Lemont, Ill., without touching down, and Iowa and Wisconsin cities got drenching rains. Heavy rain falls included 2.37 inches at Duquaque, Iowa, 2.02 at Madison, Wis., and 1.68 at Moline, Ill.

Fog Blamed for Deaths

Fog was blamed for a two-car collision at Itasca, Ill., which killed three persons. In Iowa, rain-swept highways caused three highway deaths, and the rains were blamed for another fatal smashup in Wisconsin.

The storm raged east, battering the South Carolina cities of Laurens and York with baseball-sized hailstones.

Officers Raid Near Stonefort

Armed with a search warrant, county officers Saturday night raided a place on Jenny Ridge in Stonefort township and returned with Frank Greeley, who was charged with illegal sale of liquor.

Sheriff William T. Barrett and Deputies Everett Sneed, James Lyon and Jeff Stricklin made the raid about 10 p. m.

Barrett said that 14 adults were in the house and that eight of them ran out of the house to their cars as the officers arrived. However, the officers blocked off their getaway and returned them to the house, where they were questioned.

Barrett said that six cases of beer were found, including a cooler full of beverage. There also was a juke box in the place and some of those questioned said that dancing was going on before the officers arrived. There is no dancing license for the place, Barrett pointed out.

Greeley, who was jailed, admitted that he occupied the place. Names of those present were taken but the persons were not arrested.

The Greeley place is on the gravel road that leads from Route 45 to the Will Scarlett mine between Carrier Mills and Stonefort.

Greeley this month was indicted on a charge of stealing soybeans. He pleaded innocent to this charge.

Methodists to Begin Special Services May 8; Consecration May 15

A week of special services, concluding with the consecration of the new Harrisburg Methodist church by Bishop Charles Brashares on Sunday, May 15, will commence on Sunday, May 8.

The Rev. W. L. Cummins, pastor, has announced that two former ministers of the church will fill the pulpit on Sunday, May 8. Dr. C. C. Hall will preach at the 10:40 Mother's Day service, and the Rev. Earl Phillips at the 7:30 service the same day.

Senate Committee to Vote on Amendments To Foreign Trade Bill

By United Press

The Senate Finance Committee scheduled votes today on several amendments that could spell the fate of the administration's foreign trade bill.

Key senators predicted probable defeat in a close vote for one of the amendments which is considered a major challenge to the bill.

It was introduced by Sen. Matthew M. Neely (D-W.Va.) and would limit imports of oil products, including residual fuel oil, to 10 percent of domestic demand for the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

Votes also were scheduled on amendments to protect domestic producers of other commodities.

The administration bill would extend the reciprocal trade law for three years and give President Eisenhower additional tariff-cutting powers. The House has approved it.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) urged

he Senate to approve the President's bill in order to give him the weapons needed to meet and counter the Communist trade offensive.

Gore said coal, oil, textile and other industries have joined in an "onslaught of high tariff lobbying."

Other congressional news:

Air Power: Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Nathan F. Twining told the House Appropriations Committee Feb. 9 that in the last four years, the Chinese Communists have created a whole new air force and have made it the fourth most powerful air force in the world. His testimony was made public today.

Labor: Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee today that the United States should counter Soviet propaganda by telling the story of American labor movement and how it met and defeated communism. Mitchell made the statement in testimony before the subcommittee on behalf of his department's budget request of $470,116,000.

U. N. Charter: Joseph E. Johnson, president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, told a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee today that the United States should decide what price it is prepared to pay for revising the United Nations' charter. He pointed out that Russia, and probably other nations, too, will want concessions from the U. S. before agreeing to any changes. One of the concessions Russia could be expected to demand, Johnson said, would be for Red China to take a seat at the charter revision conference.

Appropriations: President Eisenhower asked Congress today to appropriate $26,475 to help the Hoover Commission finish its work.

Amendment: The Senate Judiciary Committee today approved a proposed constitutional amendment to give governors the power to fill vacancies in the House whenever more than half the seats are vacant.

U. S. British and French experts will meet in London Wednesday to lay the groundwork for the Big Three foreign ministers' conference. The whole area of East-West differences in Europe will be up for discussion.

Amid Heavy Pressures

Officials said the idea is that the Big Four meeting be held at the foreign ministers level sometime this summer. Although they did not say so, it conceivably could lead to a so-called "conference at the summit" — a meeting of chiefs of state.

The Big Three foreign move for a conference with Russia comes amid heavy pressures on both sides of the Atlantic for a general East-West meeting now that the Paris agreements to rearm Germany have passed their parliamentary hurdles.

Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, recently urged the United States to take the initiative in organizing a conference.

President Eisenhower told newsmen March 23 that once the Paris agreements were ratified "I do believe there have got to be new exploratory talks."

He said, however, that the discussion should first be taken up on a lower level than the chiefs of state — presumably the foreign ministers. After that, he indicated he might be willing to join in a meeting "at the summit."

Moscow Favors Talks

Mr. Eisenhower added, though, that it all would depend on the attitude of the Russians. This was quickly answered for him when Moscow made it plain that it, too, favors general East-West talks.

Only Saturday, Soviet Premier Nicolai Bulganin told Western reporters he is willing to take part in a chiefs of state meeting. He said "Ask Eisenhower and Eden" about a possible date.

Shawneetown Woman Shoots Husband

Eva Rice, Shawneetown, admitted to Sheriff Millard Holloway that she shot her husband, "Boots" Rice, yesterday morning and officers today were studying what to do about the matter.

The Gallatin county sheriff said that the man was shot through the ear, the slug entering the neck.

Mrs. Rice said she shot her husband with a .38 calibre pistol at the home of Harry Portee when he started to whip her.

Holloway said that Rice signed a statement which said he did not wish to prosecute his wife.

Purchase Property

Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner, who moved to a farm near Raleigh last year, have bought the property at 331 West Sloan street, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Feazel, and owned by Mrs. Beulah Sisk, Springfield, formerly of Harrisburg. A. E. Hauptmann, real estate broker, who made the deal, said that the Wagons will occupy their new home soon.

Will Cruise World Ports on Goodwill Trip

Eisenhower Reveals Plan in Address At Press Luncheon

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower today announced plans for United States construction of an atomic powered merchant ship which will cruise the world to demonstrate the peacetime use of atomic energy.

The new ship, which will not require refueling "for scores of thousands of miles," will carry to countless foreign ports the exhibits of practical application of the new atomic science and medicine, agriculture and power production.

The President made his disclosure in a speech prepared for delivery before the Associated Press lunch held a day before the opening of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Will Ask Special Funds

Mr. Eisenhower's accent was on the need for freer two-way trade among nations and particularly congressional passage of his reciprocal trade program. He called reciprocal trade "a broad avenue by which all men and nations of goodwill can travel toward a golden era of peace and plenty."

The dramatic highlight of his prepared address, however, was his announcement of the atom-powered merchant vessel as another part of the American program of peaceful uses of atomic energy.

He said specifications for the vessel were being developed by the Atomic Energy Commission and the maritime administration. He will ask Congress for special construction funds in the near future, accompanying his request with a description of the ship.

"The new ship, powered with an atomic reactor, will not require refueling for scores of thousands of miles of operation," the President told the editors and publishers at the luncheon.

it will demonstrate to people everywhere this peacetime use of atomic energy, harnessed for the improvement of human living.

Gradual Tariff Reductions

"In part, the ship will be an atomic exhibit, carrying to all people practical knowledge of the usefulness of this new science. . . . The United States has one atomic-powered vessel in operation, the submarine Nautilus, and has another similar undersea craft on order."

The Nautilus, as the merchant man would be, is powered by an atomic reactor.

The President reserved most of his wordage, however, for his foreign trade program, saying he would not relax his personal effort toward putting across the program. The program has encountered rough going in Congress.

Mr. Eisenhower listed as his two major objectives — "mountain peaks that tower above the foothills of lesser goals" — the achievement of a just, global peace conceived in cooperative partnership among nations, and an expanding American economy shared not only among Americans, but friendly foreign countries.

He conceded that both goals faced the fundamental hazard of "the implacable enmity of Godless communism." He said recurrent crises generated by Communist-driven dictatorships confronted the postwar world with an "uneasy . . . international diet."

When the Moment is Right

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

In all the turbulent debate over Formosa, some circles keep advancing the idea that this big island should be placed under a trusteeship of the United Nations.
It sounds like a nice, respectable solution to a tough political dilemma, but it may not be nearly so wise as its advocates think.

The thought is that a trusteeship plan might be eminently acceptable both to our western allies and to the Asian nations we are trying to woo.

Presumably it would take the government of Formosa out of the hands of Chiang Kai-shek and his refugee Chinese Nationalist army.
The British and some others tolerate Chiang largely for America's sake. Asians like India's Nehru do not tolerate him at all.

Furthermore, the trusteeship proponents argue, such an arrangement would give 8,000,000 Formosans an ultimate chance to say something about how they want to be governed. Right now, though their opinions are nationalist refugees 4 to 1, they have a fair voice only in domestic matters. Chiang has a tight grip on the island's foreign policy, not to mention its military affairs.

Yet some observers of the Formosan situation gravely doubt the wisdom of this approach. Senator Knowland, for all his belliger-ence on Far Eastern issues, seems to be talking fact when he says that Asians generally and Formosians especially would look upon UN trusteeship as a sort of "multiple colonialism."

Since colonialism is the yoke
Asians have been seeking to lift from their backs, one can understand how they might view control by a UN heavily weighted with Western influence as either no better or only slightly better than what they have known.

Beyond this there is the question of what kind of trusteeship could ever be approved in a UN where Communist Russia has a voice. If one were approved, what might the Soviet Union or its puppets in the UN not do to sabotage the effective working out of the plan?

The United States could not tolerate any arrangement which de-not seek to guarantee the defense of Formosa and adjacent islands against the encroachments of Chinese communism. We now see Formosa as vital to the safety of the continental U. S., even though it lies 6,000 miles west across the open Pacific.

If not Chinese Nationalist, then American defense forces would have to hold the Formosa line, since it is unlikely other UN powers would offer at best more than token aid in a general defense.

We or the UN simply cannot leave Formosa to the Formosans, because they would mean leaving it to the Chinese Red aggressor.
This country believes sincerely in democratic self-determination for all peoples, including the For-mosans. When the moment is right, we should perhaps foster trusteeship but true independence for the islanders.

But the moment is not right. The Formosans are not yet qualified by leadership and experience to govern themselves. And good hard military logic, leading right back to the avoidance of American blood, tells our leaders it is good sense to support Chiang and his army as long as they are in substantial being.

Let 'Em Speak For Themselves

We wish that our politicians would take a rest from speaking in the name of the "American people," and just speak for themselves for a while.

Scan the Congressional Record any day and you'll find it replete with utterances which begin:
"The American people simply will not stand for . . ."

Or: "Senator Blawhard owes the American people an apology for his shabby treatment of this issue . . ."

Or: "If the distinguished gentleman imagines he can fool the American people with this talk, well . . ."

Let's face it. Most of the fellows who talk this way are just offering their own well-cooked opinions. They're not fooling the American people. Gosh, there we go . . .

The jump, his fifth from a C-119 aircraft, marks the end of three weeks of intensive physical and technical training and will qualify him as a paratrooper. Pvt. #### Many Industry Spokesmen Ask for Tariff Protection

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Granting the American jeweled watch industry the protection of a 50 per cent increase in tariff rates on Swiss watch imports has loosed a flood of requests from other industries for similar treatment.

The reason given by President Eisenhower is that it was necessary to protect the American watch industry because the skills of its workers were necessary for national defense production. But makers of lace, producers of garlic, lead pencils, work gloves, underwear, women's handbags and string think they're essential industries, too, and would like similar treatment.

None of these requests has yet reached the U. S. Tariff Commission as a formal application for higher tariff rates. But hearings of the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance Committees are studied with representatives, telling how important they are.

If past actions are any measure, their chances for getting relief under the "escape clause" of the reciprocal trade agreements act are pretty slim. Of 59 applications filed for such relief since 1948, only five have been granted.

They were on women's fur felt hats, hatters' fur, dried figs, Alaska clover seed and Swiss watches.

Only the last of these was granted as a defense essential industry.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER NOW HAS on his desk a Tariff Commission report on the U. S. bicycle industry's application for tariff relief. His action on this case is expected soon.

Nine other applications for escape clause relief have been recommended by the Tariff Commission but turned down by Presidents Truman and Eisenhower. They were on garlic, tobacco pipes, scissors, ground fish fillets, lead and zinc, hand blown glass, spring clothespins, screen printed silk scarves and wood screws.

Hardwood plywood and red ferris wheel cases are now in Tariff Commission hearings.

The Swiss watch application was turned down by President Truman in 1952 but approved by President Eisenhower last year. That was what gave everybody else the idea of using this "defense essentiality" gimmick to get tariff boosts.

C. T. Nissen and Horace B. Van Dorn of the Lead Pencil Manufacturers Assn. declared that "Black and colored pencils are indispensable operating supplies for every branch of the Armed Forces. . . . The wood-cased pencil is a product which meets all the standards of essentiality laid down by the War Manpower Commission in World War II, except that it is not directly utilized for combat purposes."

ROY A. CHENEY, PRESIDENT OF the Underwear Institute, says that: "If I were a subversive, I would not attack our supplies of airplanes, guns, ammunition, medicines or food. No matter what guns, ammunition or leadership you give an army, it can't fight without clothing."

The historic example Mr. Cheney gives is that after the Battle of the Bulge, General Eisenhower called on the General Underwear Industry for delivery of 67 million under-johns in three days.

John T. Dalv, Jr., of the Work Glove Industry thinks that it should have higher tariff protection because in World War II: "Our industry shipped to the military over two million dozen pairs of work gloves."

The International Handbag, Lug-

gare, Belt, and Novelty Workers Union, AFL states that "We cannot emphasize too strongly that our trade is essential. The armed forces of the U. S. during the last two wars, equipped the women's auxiliary branches of our military establishments with handbags as part and parcel of their standard garb, having found said containers indispensable."

CHARLES J. B. MOLITOR of the American Lace Manufacturers Assn. says: "During World War II we produced scores of millions of yards of lace and mosquito nettings for our armed forces and those of our allies."

But Mr. Molitor concludes somewhat ruefully: "Now that we have restored at least some ray of hope for American watch makers, we are about to jeopardize the jobs of workers in some 15 other industries."

These are the industries, like the lace makers, who may have to buck the competition of lowered tariffs on foreign products to compensate for the raised watch tariff.

With equal realism, J. M. Malkin of the Schiffli Lace and Embroidery Manufacturers Assn. says: "We are not a defense industry and we do not claim protection on that score. But we are important to the happiness of American women." And he wants a higher tariff for that.

CA-IC JAMES L. SWEAT, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sweat, RFD 4, Harrisburg, has been promoted to the rank of staff sergeant. S-Sgt. # DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

THE STORY: At last Jesse James' hand has obtained a parole from Maj. J. B. Rogers, after they had sought to escape being hunted down as Civil War guerrillas.

Cole had done his work well. Once more the hidden political power of the James and Younger families in western Missouri had functioned smoothly. In five minutes, and in the face of a standing government order to shoot them on sight, the last and worst of the guerrillas had made their peace with the Union and were riding, scott-free, back up the middle of Main Street.

Withal, Jesse failed to fall heir to his followers' optimism. "I don't like it," he growled, casting a quick look back toward the town. "Something's wrong about the whole blamed mess. You mark what I say, we ain't home yet."

"Aw, come off it, Dings!" Cole was the sole member of the gang who still used the familiar address. "It's a regular parole he give us. We're out on bail and we'll beat any trial they can throw at you in this country, hands down. You'll see, Ding. Now you just forget it, you hear?"

"I hear," said Jesse, not returning the big rider's grin. "But I can't forget it. He's still a Yankee."

"Bushway!" laughed Cole. "Dry day or damp, all daws smell wet to Ding. We ain't heading into no trouble whatever, saying what we lay up for ourselves."

In a way, Cole's breezy prognosis was correct. The trouble they were heading into was "laid up" for them, all right. It was laid up on both sides of the Lexington Road, not 400 yards from where Cole's bold laugh upstaged the stillness of Old Missouri's warming April air.

Jesse saw them first.

To an eye trained in such things, the blink of a morning sun ray off the moving steel of a rifle barrel screened in deep brush can be as illuminating as a rocket flare over an entire regiment in the wide open.

"Ferals!" Each of the men beside him knew the course as well as he did. Settling themselves in their saddles, they steadied their horses. With the undirected skill born of long practice they gradually opened the distance between their mounts as they rode down on the "pen."

"Now!" yelled Jesse. As the cruel spur jammed, shank-deep into his tensing haunch, the black leaped down the middle of the road. The other six horsemen broke in all directions, a literal covey of equine quail bursting outward along every point of the woodland compass. The belated hammer of the hidden troopers' rifle shot into the heavy timber.

In the space of the first soldier volley, every last one of Jesse's men made it cleanly away.

Sixty seconds later Jesse was kneeling the black around an abrupt turn in the road, past the last of the heavy brush, into the clean, free sweep of the meadow-land beyond. And dead into the advancing fronts of two troops of Union cavalry.

The column proper never broke ranks. Two sergeants, well mounted and flanking the lead troop of regulars, drove their horses over the fence almost on top of the flying black. Jesse saw his situation. They were too close on to him, both of them. And they had the bad luck of knowing their business all too well.

Heading the black for the woods, he twisted in the saddle and shot the forward trooper through the body. The youngster fell, dangling his left foot in the onside stirrup. The trained mount reared but brought up quickly, and stood. The distorted body of its rider did not move.

But the dead sergeant's companion had too much horse under him. Twisting again, Jesse emptied his left-hand gun. He missed his man but laughed wildly as he saw the horse, hit three times, stumble and go down.

McKendree Choir At Methodist Church April 27

A program of unusual musical interest is to be presented by the McKendree College Choir of Lebanon, Ill., at the First Methodist church on Wednesday, April 27, at 8 p. m.

The McKendree choir sang both a cappella and accompanied selections and chooses its material from a wide variety of sources. Included in the program are compositions by both early and contemporary composers. A performance of the "Festival Te Deum" by Ralph Vaughn Williams is of special musical interest. A group of folk songs and spirituals will close the program.

The Chapel Choir group was organized in 1946 by Miss Eula Smith, former professor of voice at McKendree. It was an organization to be used primarily for the Thursday Chapel service at the college. Mr. Freiner uses this group of voice in the Love-Waltzes by Johannes Brahms.

This versatile singing organization opened their season on Dec. 15 with C. F. Handel's majestic choral composition "The Messiah," with guest soloists. On March 31 the choir was heard in a performance of "The Seven Last Words," by Heinrich Schütz. The choir, which includes persons from Illinois, Ohio, New York and Korea, is directed by Glenn Freiner, head of the Music department at McKendree. Mr. Freiner is making his second tour with this musical organization. The McKendree choir has been making extensive concert tours since 1947 and has established a reputation for itself as one of the finest a cappella choirs from a small college in the Midwest.

The appearance of this college singing organization at the Methodist church is open to the public. A free-will offering will be taken to help defray the expenses of the choir.

Charge Son of Mayor with Armed Bank Robbery

JEFFERSON, Iowa (AP) — Arvid Reiman, son of the mayor of Arcadia, Iowa, was to be charged today with a $9,000 armed bank robbery.

Reiman, 24-year-old father of two children, was arrested Saturday on a tip and Sheriff Roy Morgan said he signed a confession late Sunday.

Reiman is the son of Neil Reiman, mayor of Arcadia and operator of a prosperous hatchery business.

Morgan said Reiman admitted holding up the Peoples Trust and Savings Bank at Grand Junction, Iowa, Friday. The mayor's son said he needed the money to pay debts, Morgan said.

The news of young Reiman's confession shocked the Arcadia community. The mayor's son was formerly in his father's business and worked in recent months as a traveling salesman for a car safety equipment firm.

Eagles Score 18 Points in West Frankfort Relays

Eldorado high school's track team scored 18 points in the West Frankfort relays held Saturday. The meet was won by East St. Louis.

Eldorado won the distance medley relay, finished fifth in both the two-mile and 880 varsity relays and Lovellette was third in the discus and fifth in the shot put.

Points were scored on a 10-8-6-4-2 basis in the relays and 5-4-3-2-1 in individual events.

Eldorado's distance medley team was composed of Wood, Sutton, Dodd and Frank Willis. On the two mile relay team were Wood, Watson and the Willis brothers, Frank and Leonard. Dodd, Dempsey, Lane and Sutton ran on the varsity 880-yard relay team.

Next Saturday the Herrin relays will be staged and Eldorado will enter a team.

French Voters Doom DeGaulle Political Movement

PARIS (AP)—French voters apparently doomed the postwar political movement of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, final returns from provincial elections showed today.

Everyone, including the government coalition and the left-wing political parties, gained at the cost of the De Gaulle movement. The left-wing gains were slightly more than those of the government coalition.

The Social Democratic Party, holder of De Gaulle's postwar rally of the French people, lost 79 seats, more than half of those they held in the general councils of the French departments.

The general councils are the "little legislatures" in France's various departments. They have only financial and local administrative powers, but most prominent politicians are members of the local groups.

Premier Edgar Faure and five of his ministers won seats in the first round of voting a week ago Sunday. Both Faure and former Premier Pierre Mendes-France are presidents of their departmental councils.

Voting was on two consecutive Sundays.

Bull Dog Track Squad in Dual Meet At Herrin Tomorrow

The Harrisburg Bull Dog track and field team will go to Herrin tomorrow afternoon for a dual meet with the Tigers. The locals, who finished with two points in the Frankfort Relays Saturday on the strength of a fourth place by Tony Beal in the discus, will participate in the Herrin Relays this Saturday.

The United States mint at Philadelphia, oldest of the U. S. mints, was established in 1792.

Sam Jones Hurls 2-Hitter As Cubs Defeat Reds, 2-1; Giants Outlast Dodgers

By United Press

Bill Vecek's tip to acquire Sam Jones was paying off for the Chicago Cubs today and making General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians fear that he gave up on the big pitcher one year too soon.

Purchased from Cleveland's Indianapolis affiliate as part of the deal in which the Indians obtained Ralph Kiner, the 29-year old Jones pitched a two-hitter Sunday to give the Cubs a 2-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. The win enabled the surprising Cubs to sweep the three-game series with Cincinnati and also marked their fifth straight triumph over the Redlegs this year.

Vecek, who advised the Cubs to take a chance on Jones because he believed the 6-foot, 4-inch right-hander's sore arm was healed, thus is having the last laugh on Greenberg—who followed Vecek to Cleveland. Greenberg predicted in 1952 that Jones would be a big league star but gave up on him last year after Sam failed to come through in several tries with the Indians.

The New York Giants won a spectacular, three hour and 55 minute struggle with the Brooklyn Dodgers, 11-10, in 10 innings and the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-1, in other National league games. The Phillies led, 2-0, in the second game when it was suspended in the eighth inning. It probably will be completed on June 28.

In the American league, Willard Nixon's two-hitter gave the Boston Red Sox a 1-0 decision over the New York Yankees and the Kansas City Athletics beat the Chicago White Sox, 5-0. The Baltimore Orioles beat the Washington Senators, 2-1, in their opener but the Nats won the nightcap, 5-2.

Pirates Win First

The Giants scored six runs, three on Ray Katt's tie-breaking homer, in the 10th inning and then held on as the Dodgers countered with a five-run outburst of their own. Alvin Dark's homer tied the score in the ninth inning and Dark scored the winning run in the 10th. Willie Mays hit two homers for the Giants while Peevess Reese and Carl Furillo homered for Brooklyn.

Max Surkont's eighth-inning gave the Pirates their first win of the season after eight straight losses. Del Ennis spoiled the shutout bid in the sixth with a homer.

Rookie Norm Zauchin's Texas League single in the ninth enabled the Red Sox to beat the Yankees' Ed Lopat; Alex Kellner hurled a five-hitter for his second win as Kansas City atoned for its 29-6 thrashing at the hands of the White Sox on Saturday and Saul Rogovin's six-hitter won for Baltimore before veteran Johnny Schmitz scattered nine hits to gain Washington an even break.

Two Indiana Cage Players Lose One Year of Eligibility

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Indiana basketball players must forfeit one year of intercollegiate competition. Big Ten Commission Kenneth (Tug) Wilson said today.

Wilson said Charles Brown and Paxton Lampkin lost their eligibility when they took part in an AAU-sanctioned basketball tournament game here April 9 as members of a "Hollywood cleaners" team.

Admission had been charged to the event.

But Wilson said in a letter to Dr. W. W. Patty, Indiana university athletic director, that he would endorse a petition to the faculty representatives appealing his own decision because of "extenuating circumstances."

Truman Hits 'Giveaways' of Nation's Resources

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Former President Harry Truman charged today the Eisenhower administration is "giving away" the nation's natural resources to "special interests."

Mr. Truman made his accusations before an airport crowd that gathered to see him made an honorary life-time member of the "Citizens for TVA."

Mr. Truman said the Dixon-Yates private power contract is "no good," and added that "you can't set idly by and let these people in Washington sabotage the TVA."

Mr. Truman said "I have no ambitions for public office . . . I am still working for the common man."

When asked by newsmen if he might consider a nomination for office in 1956, Mr. Truman said he, like Gen. William T. Sherman, would only say "if nominated, I will not accept . . . if elected, I will not serve."

Mayor George Dempster of Knoxville, president of the TVA group, told the former President "We like people with guts. We think you've got more guts than an elephant."

"We'd like to trade a whole lot of people in Washington for you right now," he said.

Mr. Truman was in the east Tennessee Republican stronghold of Cosby Sunday for the ramp festival. A crowd of 20,000 heard him.

The ramp, a hairy onion that grows wild in this Great Smoky Mountain region, is said to have a pungency that will make a strong man tremble at first smell and leave a weaker man in tears. The natives love it.

But the former president refused to eat one, and also refused to make "a political speech on the sabbath." He talked briefly about Tennessee's great native sons.

Records show that fresh forest fires break out on an average of one every three minutes, day and night, the year round.

Hoover Commission Hits Waste in Quantity Buying, Storage by Armed Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — It may be possible in inventory, with a consequent saving of $30,000,000 a year in interest charges and $3,000,000 in warehousing expenses, the report said.

The Hoover Commission on reorganization of the executive branch of government issued a report today on food and clothing purchases by the government. It found, among other things, that by eliminating "great waste, duplication and overlapping" the government could save 340 million dollars a year.

The trouble with piling up huge quantities of food and clothing, the report said, is that interest charges and warehouse fees rise proportionately. It also requires a lot more money to pay the cost of keeping track of the supplies.

Among mountains of supplies, a commission task force found 886,020 pounds of canned hamburger in Navy warehouses—enough to last 719 months. It also discovered 1,330,028 pounds of canned beef and gravy, sufficient for 79 months and enough ham chunks to last more than 6 years.

The task force was headed by Joseph P. Binns.

It also said the Navy's 8-year supply of blue trousers is evidence quantity buying is not always the cheapest method.

Binns, managing director of the Waldorf Astoria hotel in New York, said his streamlining proposals could save the government 10 per cent on its purchases and another 10 per cent in storage and handling.

It was pointed out that while the government's food and clothing bill averaged $1,700,000,000 from 1951 through 1954, the overall cost is running about $3,400,000,000 because of planning, distribution, warehousing and other management expenses.

A reduction of $1,350,000,000 is

Best Business Year in History Is Shaping Up

NEW YORK (AP) — This year is shaping up as almost certainly the best business year in history.

Perhaps that won't apply to most businesses and to the majority of Americans.

Experts predicted it. Now they are pinching themselves because their forecasts not only came true but exceeded their hopes. So far, 1955 has been the tops — exceeding the past record holder, 1953.

The gross national product — total output of goods and services — has hit an annual rate of 369 billion dollars. It topped the 1953 first quarter by $7,200,000,000 and shot past last year's figure by $13,200,000,000.

Key factors in the business upswing are three industries — autos, steel and construction. But even such soft spots as railroads and textiles are making a comeback from last year's slump.

What about that business barometer, the stock market?

After a pause during the February Senate hearing last month, it has resumed a steady climb.

During the investigation the Dow Jones industrial average of 30 stocks dipped to 391.36. Now the average is nudging 430, the market has broken the 1929 highs and, in mid-April, rose nine days in a row.

In a single day last week, executives of such giants as General Electric, U. S. Rubber and Union Carbide & Carbon told shareholders that 1955 sales should set all-time highs.

Auto makers rolled more than 2 million cars off the assembly lines in the March quarter. General Motors President Harlow H. Curtis expects the industry to build a record-smashing 7,500,000 cars and trucks this year. Chrysler is making more than twice as many cars as it produced a year ago.

But it is the auto industry which poses the biggest potential headache of 1955.

A strike by the CIO United Automobile Workers, now negotiating for a new contract which would include a guaranteed annual wage, might bust the boom.

Unemployment is another factor. The latest estimate by the census bureau is that 3,176,000 persons were out of work in early March, compared with 3,274,000 in March, 1954, and 1,674,000 in March, 1953.

But take home pay for factory workers is at an all-time high. It's also at a peak for board chairmen and barbers, parlor maids and pants pressers.

Sheppard Lawyers Granted Hearing to Prove New Evidence

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, the boy-faced osteopath convicted of murdering his wife, goes to court again this week in an effort to prove his innocence.

Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin, who conducted the marathon trial that ended in Dr. Sam's conviction of second-degree murder, granted defense attorneys a hearing for Wednesday to prove their evidence. It includes a theory that Marilyn Sheppard's killer was left-handed, probably a sex deviate, who committed the bludgeon-slaying with a flashlight.

Dr. Kirk will be the star witness at the Wednesday hearing.

The result of Dr. Kirk's investigation, financed by the Sheppard family, was included in the evidence now before the court of appeals. It includes a theory that Marilyn Sheppard's killer was left-handed, probably a sex deviate, who committed the bludgeon-slaying with a flashlight.

Dr. Kirk will be the star witness at the Wednesday hearing.

Record Crime Wave During 1954, FBI Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — A crime wave of record breaking proportions, supported by a sharp increase in theft, was recorded in the United States during 1954, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today.

The bureau's annual crime index showed that a serious, criminal offense was committed every 13.9 seconds. During each day of the year 34 persons were wilfully killed, 256 persons were shot, knifed or otherwise criminally assaulted, and there were 49 rapes.

In addition, for every calendar day of 1954 an average of 3,674 larcenies occurred, 592 cars were stolen, and more than 1,600 robberies or burglaries were committed.

By Dec. 31, 1954, some 2,267,250 major crimes had been recorded—5 per cent more than in 1953 and 26.7 more than in 1950.

It was the seventh consecutive year in which the rate of crime had increased. The correlation with population growth accounted for only a small part of this serious trend, the FBI said.

Since 1950, the bureau said, major criminal cases have increased almost four times as fast as population.

The largest increase in crime recorded last year was in burglaries, up 8.4 per cent; followed by robbery, up 6.8 per cent, and next by larcenies, up 5.3 per cent.
